THE HYPERTROPHY Meta.

The current meta for building muscle — an upper/lower split run twice, every exercise chosen through the four pillars of hypertrophy, and progressed every single week.

UPPER / LOWER ×2

MAXIMUM MUSCLE GROWTH

START HERE

HOW TO run it

Four unique sessions — Upper 1, Lower 1, Upper 2, Lower 2 — run in order and repeated. Each muscle gets trained twice a week. Heavy enough to build real strength, enough volume to grow.

PICK YOUR SCHEDULE

4 DAYS / WEEK

The intended setup. Upper 1 · Lower 1 · rest · Upper 2 · Lower 2 · rest · rest. Each muscle hit twice a week.

FLEXIBLE DAYS

Train when you can — just keep the four sessions in order. Miss a day? Pick up the next session, don't skip it.

EVERY SESSION COUNTS

Upper 1 and Upper 2 hit the same muscles from different angles. Same for the lower days. Don't cherry-pick — run all four.

REPS, REST & EFFORT

5–8 reps on everything is the strength-hypertrophy sweet spot — heavy enough to drive force production, with enough reps to accumulate growth stimulus. Rest ~2:00 on every set: short rest tanks your next set, and lost reps mean lost tension. Take working sets to 1–2 reps in reserve — leave one or two good reps in the tank, no more.

HOW TO PROGRESS — DOUBLE PROGRESSION

- 1 Start at 5 reps with a weight you control at ~2 RIR.
- 2 Add reps each session at the same weight, climbing toward 8 across all your sets.
- 3 Hit 8 on every set? Add the smallest load increment and drop back to 5.
- 4 Repeat — forever. That cycle is what makes this program never expire.

SWAP WITH INTENT

Every exercise lists an alternative or two. If a machine's taken or a movement doesn't suit you, swap to the alt — it hits the same muscle with the same goal. Don't random-substitute; stay on the listed options.

THE FOUR PILLARS of hypertrophy

Every exercise in this program earns its place against four tests. This is the lens I select movements through — and it's the difference between training that grows you and training that just tires you out.

01

STABLE

You should be locked in and balanced — free to drive the target muscle instead of fighting to stay steady. Stability is what lets you push genuinely close to failure, safely. That's where the growth lives.

02

EASY TO EXECUTE

Low skill, low coordination. You're here to load a muscle, not master a circus trick. Simple movements are repeatable, easier to progress, and let your effort go into the muscle — not the technique.

03

COMFORTABLE

It should fit your body and your leverages with no joint pain. Comfort isn't soft — it's what lets you train hard, session after session, without breaking down. Pain is just interference.

04

ISOLATED

The movement should bias the muscle you're targeting with minimal interference from everything else. Better isolation means a better stimulus-to-fatigue ratio — more growth signal for less systemic cost.

Tick all four and you've got a goat exercise. Miss them and you're just collecting fatigue.

EVERY MOVEMENT IN THIS PROGRAM WAS CHOSEN THROUGH THIS LENS.

Knowing the pillars is one thing. Applying them to your body, your gym and your weak points is another — and that's exactly where coaching comes in. The exercises here are built for a general trainee through this lens; your perfect version is what we dial in together.

TRACK EVERYTHING

Log weight and reps every set. Beat last session by a rep or a kilo somewhere. That record is the entire engine of the program — without it, you're guessing.

YOU'VE GOT THE SYSTEM

WANT ME IN your corner?

This is the exact split I program for clients. Coaching makes it yours — built around your body, your equipment and your schedule, adjusted every week, with form reviews, nutrition and direct access when you're stuck.

THE HONEST COMPARISON

This system — $60 once. Yours forever.

One-to-one online coaching runs $80 / week — fully tailored, fully accountable. This is the same training philosophy, distilled into a system you run yourself, for less than a single week of coaching. When you want the hands-on version, the door's open.
